Why does "the best of friends" mean what it means?

The best of friends literally means the best of all possible friends. So if we say it of two friends, it literally means that the friendship is the best one possible between any two people. In its definite article

I mean here "You are the best at tennis" "and "you are best at tennis", "choose the book you like the best or best" both of them can have different meanings but "most" and another adverb in

"better" vs "best"

The second sentence, as you said, contains a superlative, "best." In English, unlike in some other languages such as Spanish, the superlative does not require a definite article. In fact, it how to use "best" as adverb?

Your example already shows how to use "best" as an adverb. It is also a superlative, like "greatest", or "highest", so just as you would use it as an adjective to show that something is the

Both sentences could mean the same thing, however I like you best. I like chocolate best, better than anything else can be used when what one is choosing from is not specified I like you the

"What was best" vs "what was the best"?

In your context, the best relates to {something}, whereas best relates to a course of action. Plastic, wood, or metal container? What was the best choice for this purpose? Plastic, wood, superlatives

Consider the phrase "one of" as a synonym for "among". This way, your sentence reads: "Honda and Toyate are among the best selling cars in the US " I hope this clarifies this particular grammar

So, " It is the best ever " means it's the best of all time, up to the present. " It was the best ever " means either it was the best up to that point in time, and a better one may have
